COMPANION VOLUME.

Index to American Genealogies ; and to Genealogical Material contained in all works, such as Town Histories, County Histories, Local Histories, Historical Society Publications, Biographies, Historical Periodicals and Kindred Works. Alphabetically arranged, enabling the reader to ascertain whether the Genealogy of any Family or any part of it is printed, either by itself or embodied in other works. Fourth Edition, revised, improved and enlarged, containing nearly 40,000 references.

J. MUNSELL'S SONS, PUBLISHERS, ALBANY, N. Y., 1895.

1 vol. 8 vo. 282 large, closely printed pages, cloth, $5.

Its most desirable feature is the knowledge to be gained by all persons, who, by examining its pages, can inform themselves whether the genealogy of any family, or any portion thereof, in which they may feel an interest, has been printed in any volume. It is an alphabetically arranged work of 40,000 references, which show at a glance whether the genealogy or pedigree of any family, or any portion thereof, has been printed in any volume of genealogy, history, biography, magazine, etc. Persons interested in their ancestry or kindred, by referring to this volume, are informed as to the amount of information and the pages in any published books which contain reference to their family. This is the only work of the kind in the country. It has been the aim of the compiler to make it as thorough and complete as possible; hundreds of volumes of historical, biographical and miscellaneous publications have been minutely examined in detail and not depending on the indexes appended to such volumes, which are often incomplete. The names in Savage's "Genealogical Dictionary," Austin's "Genealogical Dictionary," the 42 volumes of the "N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register," the 18 volumes of the "N. Y. Gen. and Biog. Record," the 9 volumes of "American Ancestry," have been noticed, as well as the numerous volumes of town and county histories, centennial anniversary celebrations, biographies, society transactions, proceedings, reports, periodicals, etc. But few persons have an adequate knowledge of the amount of genealogical material to be found in such volumes, from the fact that anything like a full collection of works in those departments can only be found in large cities, and in the hands of a few private parties; and without consulting them it is often an impossibility to prepare a family history, or of learning anything very definite of any particular family. With the assistance furnished by this volume, no difficulty will be experienced in collecting needed information by any one interested in such investigations. It also affords instruction to the general reader, who may not know whether the history of his native county, town or village has been written and published. The work has been prepared with a view to facilitate the study of family history and makes it unnecessary to visit the historical libraries to learn by protracted search, whether anything has been published on one's family.

PREFACE.

The first edition of this work was issued in 1862, the second in 1868, the third in 1875.

The plan of the work is to give the title page of each book published on the genealogy of an American family, and the number of pages, together with any other information thought desirable.

This edition is arranged alphabetically, and where there is more than one book on the same family name, they are arranged chronologically.

The foot-notes of former editions have been omitted, and in their place we have endeavored, when we could, to embody in the title page of each book, in brackets, such matter as seemed necessary in order to make the title of the book give an idea of the contents; generally the name of the American founder of the family and the place and date of his settlement here.

Many genealogies are published with title pages which give no idea whatever of the subject of the book.

No other bibliography of genealogy has ever been published in America than this work of ours, unless we except a few brief lists of a few genealogical works, published in various newspapers, and an unimportant series of magazine articles published in Philadelphia last year, which were afterwards published in pamphlet or book form.

While our present work is designed to embrace only monographs of American families, yet we have included a few works relating to foreign families, where there has been a slight reference to American families, and we have also included a few biographical and genealogical works which were not strictly genealogies of American families. Such information is not within the scope of this work, nor is it designed to refer to town histories, biographies, periodicals and collective works, as all such are more appropriately found in our "Index to American Genealogies."

It is with pardonable pride that we say that more genealogies have been published by us than by any other house in America.

No house is now in existence that began publishing genealogies before us — 1841.

Notification of any errors in this work will be most thankfully received, that they may be corrected in future editions.
